- ✓ Benchmark accomplishments/plans over the past 12-15 months
 - Diversifying staff
 - Hired 3 counselors with whom diverse students of color and sexual orientation might identify.
 - Received approval and funding to hire an additional full-time therapist/counselor who will split their time between the Multicultural Center and Student Counseling Services, but whose job will be focused on serving underrepresented students. Position will likely be filled with an August 1, 2021 start date.
 - Recent intern and postdoctoral resident hires include individuals with Latino/a and African American backgrounds.
 - New postdoctoral residency program with a multicultural focus, which includes a part-time presence in the new Multicultural Center.
 - Implementing a contract with a third-party vendor that will allow students to access diverse therapists with these skills in a student's state of residence for short-term therapy services.
 - Counseling Center Staff demographics for 3-year period (FY19; FY20; FY21) including breakdowns by race/ethnicity and gender (N/%)

Select Programming/Services

- MASAI (Mentoring, Academics, Scholarship and Achievement Initiative) - A peer-to-peer mentoring program for underrepresented students jointly funded by University College and the Dean of Students Office. MASAI mentoring focuses on students at Illinois State who participated in one of our partner high school-to-college transition networks, including Chicago Noble Charter Schools, Bottom Line, One Goal, and Phoenix Pact.
- Presidential Persistence Funds - In FY17, President Dietz demonstrated his commitment to improving the retention of underrepresented students by dedicating $250,000 to develop programming to serve the same populations as the TRIO/SSS program: first-generation, low-income, and educationally disadvantaged students. Since the investment of these funds, Illinois State has seen a halt in the decrease of the overall first-year retention rates and a slight improvement in the retention rates of Black/African American students. University College and the Office of Student Success have utilized this continued financial commitment primarily through micro-grants and Peer Academic Coaching.
- STEM Alliance - Resources for students from underrepresented groups who are pursuing careers in the fields of mathematics, science, engineering, technology, and teacher education in these fields. University College partners with CeMaST to provide programming for these students including faculty mentoring, support for research, and travel to conferences.

GEER Grant

- $1.3M of the grant is dedicated to developing and continuing a loaner laptop/technology program. The program is utilized for both recruiting and retraining eligible (first-generation, low-income, underrepresented) students.
- $50,000 is dedicated to construction and outfitting of a multimedia/podcasting room in Multicultural Center.
- $20,000 dedicated to supporting the work of identity-based Registered Student Organizations (RSOs).
 - Example: Funded operating costs for Onyx Connect, a student-founded/led organization sharing positive news stories about people of color.

“Bridge” Programs

- Heartland – Prior to COVID, conversations with Heartland Community College about development of dual admissions/bridge procedures and programs including curriculum/articulation and student life/services collaboration.
- First Star Academy - Residential Summer Immersion experience on the campus of Illinois State University for students who receive foster care services. Students engage in academic instruction, life skills/college prep skills, theatre and artistic expression, group reflections, enrichment activities (e.g. recreation, physical education, game night), service learning, and field trips.
- Chicago Public Schools/City Colleges of Chicago Pipeline/Bridge – In an effort to increase the diversity of teachers in the Chicago Public Schools (CPS), Illinois State is partnering with CPS and the City Colleges of Chicago to create a cross-institution system and structure to guide CPS students and graduates in enrolling in and completing college, earning their teaching credential, and starting their CPS teaching career.

Framework for Inclusive Teaching Excellence (teaching and professional development) - FITE

- The Framework for Inclusive Teaching Excellence (FITE) is a research-based framework guiding high-quality, evidence-informed teaching and learning experiences for students and professional development programming for instructors.

- FITE is comprised of six domains of effective teaching with a culturally responsive/equity-mindset lens. FITE was launched in April 2020 and since then the impact of the framework university-wide has expanded to a variety of professional development areas.

Framework for Inclusive Service and Support Excellence (professional development for staff) - FISSE

- The six dimensions of FISSE, emphasize diversity, inclusion, and equity throughout and represent critical considerations for professional development in support of student success.
- Each domain addresses practical and applicable action plans at the individual and unit level which will result in high-quality, high-impact experiences and processes that are accessible to and inclusive of all Redbirds in their journey from recruitment through graduation and beyond.

GROWTH Change Team

- An initiative of the Office of the Provost for colleges and departments to design, implement, and assess a yearly faculty/staff professional development plan based on local faculty/staff needs to support student success in alignment with FITE/ FISSE.
- GROWTH Teams are implementing their professional development plans in each college/unit offering, on average, 3-4 sessions per semester to faculty/staff. Some examples of the workshops offered during 2020-2021:
 - Enrollment Management and Academic Services – Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion in Planning Goals; Empathy in Our Work
 - College of Education – Creating and Inclusive Classroom Culture: Disrupting White Norms Pedagogy; Redesigning your Syllabus and Course Materials for DEI
 - Milner Library – Implicit Bias; Power and Privilege
 - Wonsook Kim College of Fine Arts – Trauma Informed Teaching; Employing Equity-Minded and Culturally Affirming Teaching Practice in Virtual Learning Communities
 - College of Education – The Impact of Self-reflection, Knowledge and Application on Student Success and Retention; Increasing Student Engagement by Enhancing Classroom Culture and Climate
 - College of Applied Science and Technology – The Power of Empathy and its Impact on DEI; Professionally and Academically Supporting Students: What we Need to Know
 - Mennonite College of Nursing – Crossroad Anti-Racisms Training

- College of Arts and Sciences – Appointment, Salary, Promotion, and Tenure (ASPT) with an EDI focus discussion

Microaggression Training

- The Office of the Provost sponsored over 40 workshops on recognizing and intervening when microaggressions occur in academic environments. Workshops were delivered to departments, schools, and units during the Spring and Fall of 2020 by a team of faculty and staff facilitators who have research-based expertise on this topic. Over 850 faculty and staff in academic affairs participated in this learning opportunity. Data collected about the impact of these sessions is currently being analyzed to identify needs for future programming.

Retention Data

- First Time in College (FTIC) student persistence rate reached the highest point in nine years, reaching 84.2% from 78.6% for all 2019 new freshmen returning for their second year.
- The total number of fall 2019 first time in college students who did not return for fall 2020 was 607.
- Retention of Black/African American students significantly increased to 80.2% from 66.8% last year.
- Hispanic retention rates increased, to 79.9% from 67.7%.
- The largest improvement based on gender and race/ethnicity came from black males with an increase of 15.15% to 78.61% and Hispanic males who increased 11.39% to 74.65%.
- FTIC first generation college students saw increased retention from 72.42% to 82.67%.

First Time in College One-year Retention Rate by Entering Cohort Year

- Transfer student retention went from 87.15% to 88.92%.
- Black/African American transfer student retention increased from 78.18% to 83.87%.
- Hispanic transfer students decreased 2.2% to 90.37%. Despite this decrease, Hispanic transfer students are retained at higher rates than the overall transfer student group.
- The largest increase based on gender and race/ethnicity came from black males with an increase of 10.45% to 84.13% and Asian males increased 14.6% to 95.83%.

While transfer students are consistently retained at higher rates in all categories, the following groups of FTIC's are retained at 75% or higher:

- Those who apply prior to the filing deadline (11/15)
- Students with a high school GPA of 2.75+
- ACT scores of 20+
- Those admitted directly into a degree program
- Achieving a first semester GPA of 2.0+
- Coming from households with an adjusted gross income of $40,000+

New Transfer One-year Retention Rate by Entering Cohort Year

Priority Action: External Review of ISUPD Policing Practices

ISUPD ADVISORY COUNCIL

Purpose of the Police Chief's Advisory Council

The purpose of the Police Chief's Advisory Council (PCAC) is to provide a forum for the exchange of ideas and to discuss issues impacting the Illinois State University community. The discussions are intended to be open, honest, and engaging. The PCAC acts in a proactive manner to:

- Build trust between the police department and the campus community
- Address campus community concerns related to the quality of life
- Discuss issues related to campus climate
- Discuss issues affecting public safety
- Discuss crime reduction programs with emphasis on the community policing philosophy
- Discuss evidence-based practices and criminal justice research
- Discuss how to improve upon the delivery of police services to the campus community

Role of Individual Members

The PCAC seeks membership from key constituencies representing students, staff, and faculty. The role of individual PCAC members is to represent their constituencies by providing input, which reflects the concerns, visions, and ideas of their portion of the community. PCAC members will report back to their community with information on Council activities and gather input from the community to share with the PCAC. PCAC Members are expected to make every effort to attend all scheduled meetings.

Role of the Chief of Police

The Chief will lead the meetings which will consist of a discussion on topics related to the department and listening to issues raised by the members. The Chief will also be transparent when discussing police matters, while respecting victim privacy and employment confidentiality.

Agendas

On a regular basis, PCAC members and the Chief of Police may add items to the PCAC Agenda by emailing them to the coordinator. These items are included on the agenda of upcoming meetings and give the PCAC the opportunity to discuss a variety of issues. Agenda items include areas of interest to the PCAC, department policies and training, critical issues, upcoming campus events, and new or innovative evidence-based practices in the area of criminal justice. The PCAC will meet 3 times per fall and spring semester, or the Chief may announce an ad hoc meeting based on a notable or controversial event involving the campus community.

PCAC Members

PCAC is made up of 11 campus community members, representing the diverse nature of the campus and consisting of the following:

1. Student Government Association President and/or appointee(s)
2. Association of Residence Halls President or appointee
3. Graduate Student Association President or appointee
4. Academic Senate representative
5. AP Council representative
6. Civil Service Council representative
7. Dean of Students or designee
8. University Multi-Cultural Center staff and student representative(s)
9. University Housing Services representative
10. Assistant to the President for Diversity and Inclusion
11. Faculty member from ISU Department of Criminal Justice Sciences

The Chief may request additional members or subject matter experts to participate in the meetings on an ad hoc basis to address concerns or issues about a specific topic.

DIVISION OF FINANCE AND PLANNING (HUMAN RESOURCES) DEI PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT

Title of Training	Brief description (1-2 lines)	Department/College/Unit (who sponsored)	Target audience	Topic (keyword)	Completed and/or scheduled date/s	Number attended (if applicable)
Peer Today: Boss Tomorrow	Making the leap from peer to boss is never easy. New managers frequently struggle to balance their old coworker relationships with their new management responsibilities. This session presents four proven strategies that will help new supervisors navigate those changing relationships and prepare for difficult situations they are likely to encounter as they assume their new role.	Human Resources	Faculty, staff	Engagement	7/16/19	15
Strength Finder	Strengths Finder tool invites us to focus on what is right and strong about you. It measures recurring patterns of thought, feeling, and behavior and helps leverage your Talents, and turn them into sustainable Strengths.	Human Resources	Faculty, staff	Engagement	7/24/19	18
Well Track	WellTrack is a self-help program that students can use to address stress, anxiety, and depression before these issues get to the point of needing therapy, or other Mental	Human Resources	Faculty, staff	Engagement	7/30/19	5 health services. Its online platform provides evidence-based tools that are easy to use and effective. This session will introduce you to the features offered by WellTrack, as well as ways to connect students to this resource.

Myers Briggs Type Assessment	MBTI helps to explain how seemingly random variations in behavior can actually be orderly and consistent, shedding light on basic differences in the ways individuals perceive and judge.	Human Resources	Faculty, staff	Engagement	8/6/19	0
Responding with Care: Trauma – Informed Support	Responding with Care provides knowledge and insight that is vital for supporting survivors of sexual and intimate partner violence. Participants also learn about the impact of trauma on the mind and body, during and following traumatic experiences. This knowledge will be translated into recommendations for interacting with those who have experienced or are experiencing trauma.	Human Resources	Faculty, staff	Engagement	9/4/19	3
Responding with Care: Overview of Sexual and Intimate Partner Violence	Responding with Care provides knowledge and insight that is vital for supporting survivors of sexual and intimate partner violence. In this session, an overview of the types of sexual violence and forms of abuse will be presented. The information shared allows those who take the workshop to confront common myths and misconceptions that create barriers to reporting and healing. Stop Sending All Your Black Students to Me!	Did the title shock you? Good! This is the same shock felt when a Black student is "referred" to a Black staff member due to fear of saying or	Human Resources	Faculty, staff	Engagement	10/3/19	10 doing the wrong thing. This fear makes us feel like we do not have the tools to help those who may not look like us or come from where we are from. This session is all about empowering you to be the resource and mentor for all students regardless of race, gender, sexuality, disability, or religion.

Myers Briggs Type Assessment	MBTI helps to explain how seemingly random variations in behavior can actually be orderly and consistent, shedding light on basic differences in the ways individuals perceive and judge. Learn how learning your "type" can impact not only personal relationships but your work environment.	Human Resources	Faculty, staff	Engagement	10/15/19	5
10 Years from Retirement. What Should I Be Doing Now?	Many of us get serious about planning for retirement when we can see it on the horizon. We'll discuss several steps to tackle now, so you can confidently approach your next life-stage.	Human Resources	Faculty, staff (late career)	Personal Development	10/24/19	9
Courageous Conversations	We live, work, and teach in increasingly pluralistic environments, yet we see increasing polarization in society. A university should be about the critical debate of ideas, theories, and perspectives, but with increasing polarization of our views, it is becoming much more difficult to have civil, respectful conversations. Rather than fearing these conversations, we can embrace them as opportunities to learn about "the other".	Human Resources	Faculty, staff	Engagement	10/31/19	18

Motivational Interviewing	Motivation is the key to behavior change, and it can be modified by something as simple as how we interact with students. Through use of Motivational Interviewing techniques, we can enhance student success by helping students move towards change even when they do not initially perceive that change is necessary. This session will focus on the foundation of Motivational Interviewing and the basic skills needed to use it.	Human Resources	Faculty, staff	Engagement	11/14/19	14
Gen Z	Each generation has its own unique identity. Making up a quarter of the U.S. population, Generation Z is on our college campuses and entering the workforce. Join us for an opportunity learn more about this generation's characteristics, behaviors, and attitudes. This session will also explore what motivates them, their view of technology, and how they connect to one another and to other generations.	Human Resources	Faculty, staff	Engagement	12/9/19	24
Strengths Finder	Strengths Finder tool invites us to focus on what is right and strong about you. It measures recurring patterns of thought, feeling, and behavior and helps leverage your Talents, and turn them into sustainable Strengths.	Human Resources	Faculty, staff	Engagement	12/11/19	10

Would I Work For Me?	In this session you will learn eight effective management skills that improve motivation, productivity and building relationships by watching a video, small group discussion and having time for self-reflection.	Human Resources	Faculty, staff	Development	2/26/20	19
Organizational Communication Training	In this workshop we will discover that we are only as good as our relationships with those around us in our workplace. We will discuss how to clarify communication, check perception, and monitor our attitude during our workplace exchanges. We will use humor, interaction, and common sense to figure out to deal with all those barriers to interpersonal synergy that create a negative workplace climate.	Human Resources	Faculty, staff	Development	2/27/20	19
Loneliness	Loneliness has been increasing nationally and in college students and plays a pivotal role in college students' Mental health. Data from a survey conducted in spring 2019 indicates that ISU students are reporting more loneliness than they did five years ago. In this session, you will learn more about the relationship between loneliness, anxiety, and depression and how to	Human Resources	Faculty, staff	Development	3/3/20	14
