SENATE MEETING
October 27, 1953

The meeting was called to order by President Fairchild with all members present except Mr. Hoover, Mr. Horton, and Mr. Mills. Miss Ogle attended representing the Art Department.

The President called attention to the minutes of the last meeting with special reference to the suggestions, which had been presented concerning possible changes in admissions policies. He reported that these matters were discussed last week at a meeting of the University Council and that the Council had voted to recommend to the faculty for consideration items one and two, but that they had felt that item three should wait for further consideration at a later date. The only change suggested by the University Council was that in item one, which concerns the admission of part-time students even though they are not preparing for the teaching profession, the amount of credit for which they may enroll be six semester hours or less except with the approval of the Dean. It was thought that sometimes situations might arise where the combination of courses desired might total a little more than six hours. Mr. De Young moved that in accordance with the action taken by the University Council, the University Senate also approve items one and two to be considered by the faculty to become a part of the general admissions policy. Miss Whitten seconded the motion, and it was carried.

President Fairchild asked for reactions with reference to a desirable time for meetings of heads of departments, and it was rather generally agreed that the fourth Tuesday of the month might be as good as any. The President indicated that a meeting of heads of departments will probably be held on the fourth Tuesday of November.

The next meeting of the University Senate will be held on Tuesday, December 1.

The meeting adjourned.
