BIOGRAPHICAL NOTES

Johannes Krohn, holds a Bachelor in Music with emphasis in piano performance from Pittsburg State University (Kansas), where he studied under the tutelage of Reena Berger Natenberg. A native of Paraguay, he was a recipient of the Waddill Scholarship (USA), Piano Accompanying Scholarship (USA), and the FONDEC Scholarship (Paraguay). Both a pianist and violinist, he has appeared in several countries such as Buenos Aires, Argentina (Teatro Colon), Asuncion, Paraguay (Brazilian and Swiss Embassies), Texas, Maine, Kansas, Illinois and Florida (United States).

He has performed a wide variety of the orchestral repertoire with the Camerata Miranda (Paraguay), the SEK Symphony Orchestra (Kansas), and currently with the ISU Symphony Orchestra (Illinois). He has participated in many summer festivals such as the 3rd International Piano Summer Festival (Texas State University), the 2013 Orchestral Conducting Summer Workshop (Texas Tech University), Medomak Conductors' Retreat 2014 with prestigious conducting mentor Kenneth Kiesler (University of Michigan), and the Miami Summer Music Festival 2015 with distinguished conductor Grzegorz Nowak (Permanent Associate Conductor - Royal Philharmonic Orchestra of London).

Mr. Krohn has also studied with other conducting mentors such as Victor Yampolsky (Bienen School of Music), and Donald Schleicher (University of Illinois, Urbana-Champaign.)

Currently, Mr. Krohn is in the last semester of the Master in Music with emphasis in orchestral conducting at Illinois State University, and serves as assistant conductor to Dr. Glenn Block, Director of Orchestras.
