Thank You!

I would like to take this opportunity to extend my appreciation to the people who have made such a difference both personally and professionally in my life over the last four years. I have been a part of this music community for a long time now, and I know that I will carry all I have experienced here with me for the rest of my life.

First and foremost, I would like to thank my family, especially my parents. You have always been supportive of my dreams and ambitions, and have been there for me in both good times and bad. The sacrifices that you have made for me, Brian and Amy have never gone unnoticed or unappreciated, and have made all the difference in the world. I love you so very much.

No student is complete without a teacher. I am proud to say that I have attended ISU, where I have experienced such great student-teacher interaction. However, I would like to thank one in particular. Aris, you have had a huge impact on my life personally and professionally. I have always known I could talk to you about anything and that you would offer objective advice. Under your instruction, my playing has improved so much, and you have taught me how to take charge of how I play and what I sound like. You will be missed a great deal, but I wish you the best in your retirement. You definitely deserve it.

Patti, thank you so much for being my accompanist for the past four years. You work incredibly hard, out of the goodness of your heart and it is appreciated. Not only are you a wonderful pianist, but a great person to learn from and work with. It has been a privilege performing with you.

Annie, thank you for performing with me on this recital. I hope that one day you have the opportunity to do exactly what you want and that I will have the privilege of playing with you again. I know that your determination and talent will take you farther than you believe. Your flute playing is breathtaking, and I have enjoyed working and performing with you immensely, as well as enjoying these past years of experience together. Thank you so much. I wish you the best of luck.

There are so many friends that have impacted me that it would take too much space to name you all. Thank you so much for your support and friendship. We have had so many fun times together and I love each of you dearly. I hope that life's luck finds each of you and that I can be there to celebrate with you when it does. And meanwhile, we can keep holding each other up and keep trying. I have enjoyed spending this part of my life's journey with you and hope to share the next phase as well.
